

What is a ttRating?

Authored by: Shannon Whitmore [Shannon.Whitmore@iRacing.com]

Saved From: <http://faq.iracing.com/article.php?id=60>

---

A Time Trial is a competition between you and the clock (and everyone else and the clock!) You are on track alone and must try to record the fastest sequence of laps without spinning, going off the track, or having contact with a barrier. Any such incident will invalidate your current lap sequence, and you will need to complete another full sequence in order to better your time. The Time Trial time is your average lap time for your best sequence of laps in the session. The number of laps in a full sequence varies from track to track, or from configuration to configuration.

---